

CHURCH SEATS AND CHURCH PEWS

New Styles Cheap and Endurable.

Comfort and Beauty Combined.

UNTIL the large number of people who are never seen in churches can be assured that every church in this vicinity will have a set of seats that will be clean, comfortable and inviting, they will not be seen inside a church. Many churches will supply this long-felt want if they could do so at prices and on terms within their reach, thus increasing their attendance, drawing on the unusually large number of people who do not attend the churches, and which would evidently result in every service being crowded. A barrier has been in the way in the form of high prices, shoddy goods and no terms. This barrier has been removed by the Church Supply Department of the National Baptist Publishing Board, which has presented the new style church seat (its own creation and its own make). These seats are constructed of the best grade of hardwood. They are built by the best skilled mechanics and have proven to be the most comfortable ever offered at the prices. The terms on which they can be purchased are so easy that any church, regardless of its financial condition, can secure a set of these by a small cash payment, have the seats installed and pay the remainder in monthly or quarterly payments to suit their own financial condition. How long, with such inviting inducements offered, will it be, before every church in and about Nashville will get a set of seats? References can be given to the Nashville churches by referring them to Rev. L. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the St. John Baptist Church, Pearl St.; Rev. J. L. Harding, pastor of the North Third Avenue Baptist Church, both of whom have seated with new style church seats; Rev. G. B. Taylor, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, corner Stevens and DeLuge Sts.; Rev. Wm. Haynes, pastor of Sylvan Street Church, Shelby Avenue, who have installed the church pews.

PROF. KEALING'S ADDRESS.

Prof. H. T. Kealing, editor of the A. M. E. Review, delivered an address Monday night to a crowded house at St. Paul A. M. E. Church, on "How Much Should a Man Weigh?"

The lecture was full of apt illustrations and beautiful figures, all tending to throw lights of ornamentation over facts otherwise dry and uninteresting. He enumerated the physical principles governing the weight of matter and applied them to the metaphysical and psychical entities. In the course of his remarks, the speaker said:

"There are spiritual weights as well as avoirdupois. Indeed, the greater weight of man is spiritual. There are weights which assist and weights which beset or hinder. There are weights which drag and weights which lift.

"There are a few fundamental principles applying to material weight which apply also to spiritual weight. Indeed, all natural things have their spiritual counterparts. It was the favorite idea of Ralph Waldo Emerson that each material thing is intended to symbolize a truth or spiritual essence. The smallest bodies often hold the largest souls, and those who weigh least in the world of contention and politics, count most in the uplift of the home and the human soul.

"Who can estimate woman's weight in this regard? Who can count the weight of a pure life, a sympathetic heart and a helping hand in the community? Who can weigh the influence, softening and sweet, of a little child in the home devoid of wealth and ease?"

BRIDAL PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Petway, of No. 85 Lewis street, entertained last Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, of Annapolis, who are here in this section on a bridal visit to friends and relatives. Mrs. Hill being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Petway. The affair was very elaborate in every detail, and many were the friends present who enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess. Music was the feature of the evening.

MRS. MONTAGUE'S DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. A. E. Montague, of Fourth avenue, South, entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. J. H. Jumper, of Hughes, Tenn. The dinner, which consisted of four courses, was daintily served. Those present were Mr. J. H. Jumper, Miss Mary Barry, Miss Carrie Stewart, Mr. Whitney Ray and Mrs. A. E. Cartmell.

HELIOTROPE CIRCLE.

The Heliotrope Circle had its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Chas. C. Cotton, Fogg street, on Friday last. The following officers were elected: Mrs. S. V. Lofton, President; Mrs. A. J. Dodd, Vice President; Mrs. C. C. Cotton, Secretary; Mrs. Franklin, Treasurer; Mrs. Durand Huston, Critic; Mrs. J. B. Battle, Chaplain.

NEGRO BUSINESS MEN AWAKENING.

There is all evidence that the Negro business men of Nashville are awakening from their long sleep, and have determined to co-operate with one another for the benefit of every business enterprise in the race. This fact was plainly evident at an enthusiastic meeting called at the rooms of the One Cent Savings Bank Wednesday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to organize or to discuss the advisability of forming an organization that would serve this purpose. Many efforts have been put forth from time to time to meet these requirements. For instance, the Local Business League was supposed to have covered this particular field, but owing to their failure to do so, it became necessary to perfect another organization. Quite an number of business enterprises and organizations were represented at the meeting. Dr. R. S. White representing Bellevue School; C. N. Langston, One Cent Savings Bank; G. F. Anderson and P. W. Adams, the Colored Bar Association; J. F. Battle, representing Boyd & Battle Livery Stable, with the Nashville Horse Show and Athletic Association; A. N. Johnson representing the Johnson Undertaking Establishment; Henry A. Boyd, the Church Supply Department of the National Baptist Publishing Board, and the Nashville Globe; J. C. Napier, the One Cent Savings Bank; T. Clay Moore, real estate agent; E. B. Jefferson, dentist and Dr. C. V. Roman, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist; Dr. F. G. Smith, representing the Tennessee Educational, Industrial and Agricultural Fair Association, and Mr. J. B. Bosley.

Judging from the important talks made it seems to be the sense of the meeting to go into permanent organization. After the selection of J. S. Martin as temporary chairman and Dr. R. S. White as temporary secretary, a motion to this effect was adopted. A committee of three was selected on constitution and by-laws and will report on Wednesday evening, November 13. Every business man in the city, as well as the profession among colored people, is solicited to be present at the meeting, which will be held in the directors' rooms of the One Cent Savings Bank.

HAMPTON STATION NOTES.

The colored people of Hampton Station have just completed a church building valued at fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars under the able leadership of Rev. G. W. Hampton as pastor.

Rev. Mr. Hampton is a young man and his ordination dates back to the year 1901. He is a scholar and a man of broad, liberal views, having attended State Normal, Frankfort, Ky.; University of Wilberforce, Roger Williams University, and is now a student of Fisk University.

Since entering the ministry he has served creditably as pastor of Baptist churches at Erin and Woodlawn, Tenn. Since early last spring he has devoted his entire time to erection of this church.

Hampton Station is situated four miles from Guthrie, Ky., on the Memphis division of the L. & N. Railroad. Its location is ideal and makes a lasting impression upon passengers on trains as to thrift and enlightenment of the community. It is modern in structure, complete in its appointments, and stands as a monument to the untiring zeal and ceaseless energy of Rev. Mr. Hampton.

Sunday, the 3rd inst., the church was taxed to its utmost capacity. Special services were held. Rev. T. J. Goodall, pastor of Fifth Baptist Church, Clarksville, Tenn.

Miss R. J. Carter, a missionary under auspices of Home Mission Board, New York City, and others assisted in services. Quite a nice sum was given by the congregation to the pastor. The church does not owe anything for building.

CARNATION CLUB.

Mrs. C. C. Winstead entertained the Carnation Club Monday afternoon at her residence, 1009 Horton street. The house was charmingly decorated with flowers and ferns. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Moore. After an hour had been spent in work, Mrs. P. A. Washington and Mrs. L. E. Battle rendered several musical selections. At 5 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room where a two-course luncheon with ices was served. The table was beautifully decorated with its drawn linen cloth, having a centerpiece of embroidered roses on which rested a stand of roses. The Club's guest was Mrs. L. E. Battle. The club will meet with Mrs. Geo. W. Ward, corner of Bass and Ewing avenue, next Monday. present were Mesdames H. M. Burns, Geo. W. Ward, P. A. Simms, Hal Duff, W. S. Amos, Sidney Bond, P. A. Washington, C. C. Winstead, Lawrence Moore, Robt. Ralph, C. Battle, Wm. Rucker.

IN HONOR OF MRS. ALLMAN.

Mrs. Alex. Thompson entertained informally at the residence of Mr. and
